

Our Lady's RC High School

a specialist mathematics & computing college

06 July 2010

Dear Parent/Guardian

I feel it appropriate to provide you with an update on BSF plans for the new Catholic High School following Michael Gove's announcement to the House of Commons yesterday.

Information on the Government's website (www.education.gov.uk) states that 'sample' projects, of which the new Catholic High School is one, will be reviewed on a case by case basis. We have been in discussion this morning with colleagues at St Augustines's, Balfour Beatty (preferred bidders appointed to the building project) and Local Authority BSF Leaders who remain positive that the new school will be built as scheduled and open in September 2012.

As yet we have no indication as to when the Government's case by case review will be completed but will endeavour to keep parents informed as promptly as possible.

Yours sincerely
